[BEGIN TRANSCRIBED STATEMENT]

My name is Maria Thibodaux, Badge 2241, currently assigned to the Eighth District patrol, French Quarter sector. I am providing this statement voluntarily regarding my actions on October 4, 2025, in connection with Case Number PBPD-2025-088142.

I received the dispatch at approximately 2:40 AM for an unresponsive male in the alley behind 712 Bourbon Street. I know that block well — it's The Rusty Anchor. The call described the victim as face-down and not moving. I was approximately six blocks north on Bourbon at the time and arrived within seven minutes.

When I entered the alley, I immediately saw the victim — a Black male, later identified as Marcus Webb — face-down in the alley. There was a significant amount of blood around his head. I checked for a pulse. There was none. I did not move the body or disturb anything near him. The scene was quiet at that point except for Bourbon Street noise in the background.

I observed a man in a doorway to the east — he was standing very still, watching. He identified himself as Darnell Washington when I approached. He was holding a cigarette and appeared shaken. He told me he had seen some men in the alley but was vague about when. I asked him to stay and he cooperated.

At the far end of the alley near the Bourbon Street entrance, I noticed three white males. They appeared to be watching from a distance. When I made eye contact, they turned and walked rapidly into the crowd on Bourbon Street. I radioed it in immediately — three white males, one in a red shirt, one in a dark hoodie, one in a lighter button-down. I was not able to pursue and maintain scene security simultaneously.

Officer Martin arrived two minutes after me. I briefed him and assigned him the outer perimeter. I made my notifications per protocol — EMS, supervisor, Homicide. I tried to locate the woman who made the 911 call — no one claimed to be her. We looked up and down Bourbon Street for several minutes but she was gone.

The alley camera was on when I arrived. I noted it was pointed east and could cover the body's position. I flagged it verbally to Detective Broussard when she arrived and noted the bar owner should be contacted about the recording. That is the extent of my direct involvement prior to homicide and CSI unit arrival.
